1936 Poll Tax Payments At Low Level

1295 POLL TAX PAYMENTS IS COUNTY TOTAL

Property Tax Payments in Randall Are Larger Than Collected in Number of Years

PENALTY STARTS

Automobile Plates For 1937 May Be Secured During February and Put on Cars March 1

Poll tax payments fell to a new low level in Randall county when only 1295 citizens made the payment of this tax before closing time Saturday night. This is the lowest collection of poll tax that has been recorded in several years. 2280 poll taxes were paid last year. 1350 poll taxes were paid two years ago, which was also an off year for elections.

Property tax collections were better than last year, stated Collector R. N. Barnett. A full check on tax collections will not be available for several days in order to establish the exact percentage of payments which were made this year. However, from the amount of money collected it is evident that collections will run considerably higher than for the past several years.

Automobile license plates may be purchased for 1937 at the office of Tax Collector R. N. Barnett. Automobile owners may buy the new plates now, but they cannot be placed on cars berofe the first of March. All cars must be equipped with the new 1937 plates by the first of April.

Stone Work Begins on Construction of the New Postoffice

Work was started Friday in laying stone on the new postoffice building. Cold weather has held up the work this week, but with the first warm days, the stone work will be resumed.

All of the concrete work on the foundation is completed, and the forms ready for the floor. This concrete will be run some time this week if the weather remains open.

The contractor states that he is behind with his schedule owing to so much cold weather.

The stone being used is Texas granite.

Red Cross Given $500 In County

Quota of $90 Is Increased 500 as Appeal Is Made For Sufferers of the Ohio Flood

Red Cross donations in Randall county for flood relief soars near to the $500 mark, and should reach that amount by today.

County Chairman Guy Harp had forwarded $431.91 to national headquarters by Monday noon. Donations which have come in since then will bring the donation practically to the $500 mark.

The quota for the county was originally set at $45, but was doubled when it became apparent that the flood was the greatest in the history of the nation. On Wednesday of last week each Red Cross Chapter was asked to increase the quota 500 percent. Information received this week indicates that many local chapters over the nation have exceeded their enlarged quotas. The local chapter will be recorded in this group.

Hundreds of Randall county citizens have contributed to the relief fund stated Mr. Harp.

George Frank and Herman Holenstein of Umbarger collected $48.00 among the citizens of the Umbarger community and turned the money into the county chapter.

Mrs. C. P. Robertson of Jowell collected $13.10 from that community.

Cantrell Will Be at Tax Office on Saturday Each Week

M. E. Cantrell, Deputy Tax Assessor, will be at the office of R. N. Barnett each Saturday in order to receive tax renditions for 1937.

Mr. Cantrell is working among the property owners of the county every day excepting Saturday. Those who are not at home when he calls are left a card requesting that they come to the office to render their taxes. Saturday is reserved for this work by Mr. Cantrell in order that those whom he has missed may see him at the office.

In order to secure exemption of taxes on homesteads, it is necessary under the law, that the tax rendition blanks be signed by the property owner.

Joe Vern Hales Is Named State Holstein Champ

Local Boy Wins Distinction in Boys Club By Producing Winners In State Shows

Joe Vern Hales, fourteen year old Randall county club boy, has recently been awarded the title of Texas State Champion Holstein Club boy by the Holstein Friesian Association of America.

Joe Vern has been a member of the Randall County Dairy Calf Club since 1933. His first Holstein heifer is now a four year old cow and has produced three heifer calves which gives him a herd of four animals at the present time. He has exhibited one or more of his animals at fifteen different district and State shows since 1933. In that time he has won twenty-one first places, ten seconds and one third place. These winnings include such awards as Grand Champion club heifer at Lubbock in 1936, Junior Champion club heifer at Dallas in 1936, and Grand Champion heifer at Fort Worth in 1935.

Joe Vern Hales is thoroughly sold on the value of pure-bred live stock and has learned how to raise the kind that will win in the big shows. He expects to go ahead with his herd and be on hand at the big shows again in 1937.

Mrs. Tommie Pierce and Mrs. Clyde Davis visited in the Ben Pearson home at Le Fors last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warren left Sunday for Dallas where they are buying new spring goods for the Peoples Store.

Adjustment Farm Debt Committee Meets Twice Month

Regular meetings of the Farm Debts Adjustment committee are scheduled each second and fourth Thursdays of each month, according to Walter R. Allen, who was here Thursday for a meeting.

The Randall county committee is composed of J. B. Fox, T. S. Stevenson and W. J. Wooten. The meetings are held in the office of Mr. Stevenson. Farmers who are having difficulties in getting their debts adjusted may take their pleas to the committee for consideration. This work is being carried on through Resettlement Administration of Amarillo. Private and confidential conferences may be arranged by farmers if they desire.

Mr. Allen's home is Perryton where he is a prominent attorney.

Conservation Group Will Ask for Legislation and Money

W. A. Warren was in Amarillo Friday where a meeting of the executive committee of the Panhandle Water Conservation group was held. Plans were made to ask for state legislation, forming a Panhandle district for water conservation as the first step in providing for dams in this territory. Members of the group will go to Austin this week to confer with Senator Clint Small and West Texas Representatives regarding this legislation.

The next step will be for Carl Hinton, secretary of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, to go to Washington to ask the federal govern to make an appropriation to start the program in the Panhandle. Building of lakes and dams all over this territory in order to conserve the underground water supply will be the plea made to congress.

Among the visitors to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum on Tuesday were Frank Jamison, H. E. Nelson and C. C. Moore, members of the Santa Fe's party from Denver, and C. S. Makeig of Amarillo. The visitor from the greatest distance on that day was Mrs. Ivey Kephart of Spencerville, Ohio.

Buffs Lost Two Games to Simmons on Home Floor

Fast Cowboys Break the Winning Streak of the Buffs on Home Floor Monday and Tuesday

Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene defeated the Buffaloes Monday and Tuesday nights in two of the hardest games played this year at Burton gym. In this victory the Cowboys maintained a clear record for the season, having won every game. The Buffs were defeated for the first time on the home floor.

The Buffs took the lead Monday night, and at the half held a margin of 19-11. Opening the second half the visitors started clicking and soon took command of the game. With a comfortable lead in the end of the game, delay tactis on the part of the visitors brought constant boos from the big crowd. The game ended 24-26 in favor of Simmons.

Tuesday night the visitors took the lead from the very start, the Buffs never being able to square the score. The score was 18-8 at the end of the first period, favoring the visitors.

The second period opened with the Buffs starting a furious attack, and on several occasions were only two points behind. The score ended 35-28 in favor of the visitors. The Buffs rushed the visitors in the second game so hard that the stalling tactics of Monday night could not be employed.

The Buffs play the next games at San Antonio on Feb. 15-16, meeting St. Mary's University. From there the team goes to Alpine to play Sul Ross on the 17th and 18th.

W. A. Warren, Levi Cole, Dr. R. P. Jarrett and T. S. Stevenson attended the Chamber of Commerce banquet at Plainview Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Childress of Borger visited Sunday in the C. P. Overton Home.

Officers Issue Warning to Speeders; Law Violators

Officers of Canyon are warning all car owners and drivers to heed the traffic law regulations here. Far too many accidents, and very narrow escapes are reported in Canyon, and the officers intend to do something about the matter if drivers are not more careful.

The speed limit in the city is 20 miles per hour, and stop signs are placed over the city at intersections which are particularly dangerous.

Double parking is another way of getting bumped into and of blocking traffic, especially on busy days.

Excessively loud horns on cars are a nuisance, and very unnecessary.

"Drive more carefully and use your horn less," is a very good policy to follow.

For safe night driving for yourself and other people, proper lighting on all vehicles is required. Check up on this and if your car is not properly lighted, get it repaired at once.

Car owners, help the officers enforce the traffic laws of Canyon, and make the city safer for yourself as well as others. It is much more economical to have your car properly repaired and to abide by the law regulations than to have an accident, or have to pay a fine and court costs for traffic violations.

City Boundary Will Be Changed to Include W. T. Campus

The campus of W. T. will soon be included within the city limits of Canyon by an order passed Monday by the city commission. In order to make the change, 70 acres in the west part of Canyon will be dropped out of the city limits.

The campus has never been included within the corporate limits since no revenues could be derived by taxation. But PWA requires that all projects be insured until paid out. Since the campus was not "in town" the fire insurance rates would be very high on Stafford Hall, the cottages and Cousins Hall, in spite of the fact that they had ample fire protection.

The act will be effective in 30 days.

January Sets Low Record For Temperature on the Plains

January 1937 was the fifth coldest January in 46 years, according to the weather man at Amarillo.

While no excessive cold weather hit this section, the temperature showed a constant low average for the month.

Another cold wave hit Sunday night, the mercury dropping 50 degrees in 8 hours. 12 degrees above zero was registered Monday morning.

A light snow fell Monday night, but not sufficient to make moisture of any consequence.

Clarence Thompson Announces Program of Hardware Dealers

C. L. Thompson, secretary of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Association, mailed the annual program to members of the association this week. The convention will be held in Amarillo next Monday and Tuesday.

The printed program consisted of 64 pages with cover, which was printed by The News.

From all indications the convention will be the largest the association has held in recent years.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Pierce of Overton are here lookin after busbusiness and visiting at the home of Mr. Pierce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Pierce.

G. A. Farlow was in Fort Worth Friday and Saturday attending a conference of Frigidaire dealers.

CAMPUS WORK IS NAMED AS OUTSTANDING

District Director A. A. Meredith Gives Interesting Figures on Work Being Done Here

WPA TO CONTINUE

Legislature Is Asked to Appropriate $26,000 to Carry on Projects That Are Not Finished

A total of $130,869.43 has been spent on public works in Randall county since WPA started in 1935, stated A. A. Meredith, district director, on Tuesday. This includes all of the money spent by the government, the county, city, W. T., and the highway department for public improvements.

Randall county has a reputation, even in Washington, for the good use that has been made with its money, states Mr. Meredith. The projects which have been accomplished on the campus of W. T. have been pronounced the outstanding WPA projects of the entire Southwest.

A bill is pending in the legislature for $26,000 to pay the state's part of the projects which are now under construction on the campus and others which will be started in the near future in order to furnish work for men who would otherwise be unemployed.

The outlay of this money has not only added very greatly to the improvement of the county, but has aided men with families who have needed the labor very badly, stated Mr. Meredith.

The government has put up $98,110.96, and the local sponsors have added $32,758.47 to these projects, according to the figures of Mr. Meredith.

The only WPA projects under way at the present time are the laundry and garage on the campus of W. T. When the legislature appropriates the necessary money, work will be resumed on the recreation hall, the stadium, and the tennis courts. In addition, the appropriation sought from the legislature will complete features of the swimming pool which were eliminated in order to keep the building within the funds available under PWA.

WPA projects in the county, in addition to those on the campus, which have been carried on are: Sewing room, street work in Canyon; some country road work; tax survey; youth employment; roadside highway park; home demonstration assistant.

Indications are from Washington that WPA will be carried on in a reduced form for some time to come, especially in those sections which are able to prove the necessity for public works to care for unemployment.

Death Comes While on Visit to Two Nieces in County

Ora Everett McCaslin, 62, of Dallas county died Thursday after a short illness. He had been here only 10 days to visit at the home of his nieces, Mrs. J. T. Sykes and Mrs. Clarence Stallings.

The body was shipped to Annona Saturday for funeral services on Sunday.

The deceased was survived by one daughter, Mrs. T. M. Almond, of Dallas; one brother, V. McCaslin of Pecan, and one sister, Mrs. F. P. Green of Paris.

Dr. E. J. Cundiff Re-elected Secretary of Dentists

Dr. E. J. Cundiff was re-elected secretary of the Panhandle Dental Association at the convention which closed in Amarillo Friday.

Mr. Cundiff served as secretary of the association during the past year.

The association's convention this year was largely attended, and the program was of great interest to the dentists, stated Dr. Cundiff.

THE FARM PROBLEM

Here are some facts about farmers and farming which I wish the President, Senators, Congressmen, farm leaders, editors, etc., would look at, check up, and then ponder about:

1. Farm prices on livestock and main products are fixed by the packers' trust and the speculators and gamblers on the exchanges. Honest now, how long would your business or profession make a living for you if your prices were fixed by those who buy from you? Honest, how long? This is the farmers' lot.

2. For every 34 cents income made by the 32 million people on the farms this past year, everybody else—including those on relief, on the average—had an income of $1.00. Honest now, how long would your business or profession last if every time every other person in the country had an income of one dollar your income was only thirty-four cents? This is the farmers' lot.

3. From 1921 to '36 the farmers' whole property dropped 29 billions while all other property increased 47 billions in value. Where would you be if this happened to the business you're in?

4. Farm hands, boarding themselves, got less than $500 last year, including everything; workers (not executives) in mines, manufacturing construction and transportation got $1,117 on the average; the 20,000 railway mail clerks got $2,460 with two weeks vacation with pay and they will be retired at age 62 with a pension of $100 a month for life. I'm glad the clerks are getting it. What I kick about is that the farmers and the other workers don't get as much.

5. From 20 to 30 million farmers spent 14 billions of dollars raising and educating their boys and girls who went into the towns and cities. Is this fair to the farmers?

6. In 1930 58 percent of the value of all farms in the country was owned by those NOT living on the farms, and it is increasing. In 1890 it was only 41 per cent.

These facts are basic, and they are terrible. I wish President Roosevelt had to learn them by heart and repeat them every morning before breakfast. I wish the same thing about every farm leader, every member of Congress, every editor, and every farmer. Then something would soon pop.

But the government can straighten it out in a jiffy.

How? By fixing prices at a profit on basic farm products consumed at home and then handling the surplusses. Such a bill has already been introduced, and the Congressman who introduced it is chairman of the farm bloc in the House with 60 or 75 members from the big farming states. Something real may soon be doing for the farmers, thank God.

Many Texas publishers are objecting to the child labor amendment which is now before the legislature after having been rejected for six years. The main objection is based upon the viewpoint that the federal government might enact too stringent regulatory measures if this amendment is written into the federal constitution. The federal government has gone into so many phases of regulation that perhaps it is wise to have forebodings as to what might happen under this amendment. The object of the amendment is a laudable one—eliminate sweat shops and prohibit unjust child labor. President Roosevelt approves the measure; Governor Allred speaks in favor of it; Parent-Teachers Associations are urging its approval; the amendment passed congress by a large majority, and has been approved by more than a majority of the states. If the amendment is approved, and should the federal government exceed the powers which are generally supposed to be sought under the proposal, the people would lose no time in repealing the amendment. Up until repeal of the 18th amendment came, it was thought impossible for the people to change their minds. At the present time, we are convinced that no such far-flung construction is the thought of the federal government under this amendment. It is the ambition of the federal government to aid the children and protect them from impossible modes of employment rather than enter homes to harass parents who give their children helpful and necessary tasks.

DR. HILL SAYS OUR ROAD OUGHT TO BE BUILT
(Clarendon News)

In his address before the annual banquet of the Amarillo chamber of commerce last week, Dr. J. A. Hill, President of W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon listed certain highways which in his opinion ought to be paved. He listed the proposed North and South highway through Clarendon as one of those needed, and said he felt that the roads so named would be built.

Dr. Hill made quite a plea for less "Littleness" in our thinking and planning here in the Panhandle, declaring that if we were to make the progress we hoped for, we must forget petty jealousies and work together for the whole area.

Dr. Hill was eminently correct about our North and South highway. It should be built, and it will be if we keep the pressure on. He was right about the need for co-operation here in the Panhandle. It will pay large returns to think and plan broadly for the good of all the Panhandle country.

The American Institute of Public Opinion reports that a very substantial majority of the citizens of the United States favor a revision of the jury methods whereby verdicts may be rendered by either nine or ten of the twelve on a jury. Why not? No other deliberative body is required to return a unanimous decision. The Supreme Court, composed of the brainiest lawyers of the land, seldom return unanimous decisions. Why should twelve laymen be expected to agree when the best lawyers of the land cannot agree? It is reported by the Institute that 42% of the lawyers favor verdicts rendered by 9 to 10 jurymen. Corporation lawyers and criminal lawyers are the ones who object most seriously to changing the law. These classes always represent defendants in cases, and so long as all 12 jurymen must agree, so much greater are their chances to beat the case for their clients. In the name of common sense the law should be changed. The taxpayers, who foot most of the bill for court procedure, should become interested in such a change.

Americans who have visited England the past two months note the change in sentiment. In the first place, royalty is no longer snooty. The abdication of Edward left nobility high and dry with a third rate king on their hands. They are having a hard time to sell George to the world as a first rate monarch. George is a good old boy, but devoid of personality and entirely without the knack of leadership. In the second place, England has received a real war scare, and the lack of unpreparedness is most appalling. For a long while after the world war, the English people felt that the United States could be played for the fall guy in footing the bill, but now that another war threatens, the financiers feel the necessity of making friends with our old Shylock, Uncle Sam, in order to touch the money till again in a big way. The United States is the only nation in the world without serious money troubles, as bad as they may seem in this country. To carry on a successful war, money must be available.

Those prohibitionists who doubted the word of the wets when they promised that under repeal the saloon would not return, are not surprised at the introduction of a bill in the legislature to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink. The wets say that they would not bring back the saloon now, but would allow the sale of liquor by the drink at eating places. After the people voted repeal of the 18th amendment and of state-wide prohibition, Senator Clint Small defied the wets and wrote into the bill a definition of the open saloon as any place in which liquor was sold except in package. The wets were not expected to keep their word in abolishing the saloon. They have never been expected to favor anything but a wide-open nation in which booze is sold by all who wish to sell it, and in any place that they wished to sell it. The present situation is so bad that Governor Allred has appealed to the legislature to strengthen the present liquor laws so that the drys may be protected from the outlawry of the wets.

Millions of persons in the United States attended the President's Birthday Balls Saturday night. The idea was started by a smart advertising man in New York, with whom the Newsman was a schoolmate 27 years ago. Criticism has been offered that the overhead has become so great that little money actually gets to charity. This is usually the case when balls are given for charity sake. However, much money was raised in the first President's Birthday ball, and a wonderful institution was erected with the proceeds. Like many other laudable institutions, commercialism has entered to such a great extent that poor charity has suffered while a terrible overhead has been built up to wipe out the proceeds.

A most wonderful nation-wide response to the call of the American Red Cross has resulted from the disaster of the flood in the Ohio Valley. Never before has so much damage been wrought by floods in this nation. The American people responded almost spontaneously to the call for aid. Being a neighbor is no longer a "cross-the-back-fence" afffair. The suffering of mind and soul to all Americans over this disaster was in proportion to the physical discomfort and final loss of those who were in the distress zone. Americans show on such occasions their great humanitarian spirit.

Fleeing Before Wild Ohio Waters

Warned that the mad-cap Ohio river would sweep everything on his valley farm before it, this Missouri farmer stowed his family and their belongings in his wagon and fled ahead of the approaching disaster. Scenes like this, scenes of stark desolation and heartbreak and loneliness, were to be found for 1000 miles along the Ohio as it raged southward, leaving hundreds of thousands homeless, hundreds dead and a property damage running into millions of dollars.

The cabinet makers have guessed very badly. It was assumed by all of them that President Roosevelt would make a number of changes immediately upon the start of his second term. Probably the President is like the old sage who employed many men and fired few. Asked why he kept so many men of 75% to 80% ability, his reply was always that he knew the weaknesses of his employees and where to be on guard. Should he fire those whom he knew in order to hire others, chances were they would prove to be only 60% efficient, and he would have more weaknesses to guard.

Attorney General Bill McCraw and Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson are all set for the Governor's race next year. Both are hard and effective campaigners. Both have a state wide acquaintance. McCraw is probably the more effective speaker. Karl Crowder, assistant to Jim Farley in Washington, is talking of entering the race. Others will probably announce, but after all entries are in, the real race will be between Thompson and McCraw.

Dr. J. J. Taylor, State Press of the Dallas News, has been named editor in chief of the Dallas News publications, succeeding Dr. Dealey, who died last week. Dr. Taylor is the best known newspaper man in Texas. He is the product of the country field, and moving to the greatest newspaper in the Southwest he has attained a most enviable position.

As Disaster Rode Ohio River's Greatest Flood

More than 500,000 homeless; at least 100 dead; untold millions of dollars in property laid waste; the health of hundreds of thousands menaced from Pittsburgh to the Gulf—these were the hard facts the nation faced in the wake of the greatest flood disaster in the entire recorded history of the Ohio river. Whole cities were evacuated. Top photo shows a portion of Cincinnati as 80 feet of water left 65,000 homeless; a scene typical in Louisville, Evansville and many other cities. Lower left, as refugees fled with their meager possessions before the advancing waters; lower right, as homeless women and children got their first food in many hours at a Red Cross emergency depot.

GUESTS DON OLDEST GARBS FOR GALA CLUB AFFAIR

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, groaning under its unexpected load, the city bus screached to a stop in front of the Warwick home, 1110 Sixth Avenue. The sleep inducing horn sounded until Mrs. Warwick was forced to open the door to see what was causing the rumpus in front of her normally quiet home, as she was expecting nicely dressed club guests just then too, and wanted everything to be just perfect!

But to her amazement people began unloading. Was she dreaming or were her ancestors coming for a visit? But no, it was her expected guests! No, it wasn't . . . but in the undecision, the guests were in the house, and had the party in full swing before the bewildered hostess managed to conquer her senses. The guests were really those expected, but hardly recognizable as they were dressed in the dazzling finery of all the old clothes that could be found in the city.

The hostess was using sweet peas for the table decorations, but substituted a centerpiece of red paper flowers to be more in keeping with the elaborately dressed party.

A salad course was served with sandwiches and coffee. Sandwiches were dunked, and coffee saucered and blowed. Several arguments prevailed as to whether the hostess had previously done the blowing, but no one dared to take the chance, so much blowing continued. Sandwiches disappeared as if by magic, so a loaf of bread was passed permitting each guest to make as many more sandwiches as she wished, with cheese and preserves that were supplimented.

In this very unruly group were Mrs. Marion Bishir, Mrs. Guy Harp, Mrs. R. A. Neblett, Mrs. Dan Sanders, Mrs. W. C. Black, Mrs. Irby Carruth, Mrs. J. W. Kleinschmidt, Mrs. T. H. Knighton, Mrs. Travis Shaw, Mrs. W. L. Smith, Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Mrs. Lee Foster, Mrs. J. H. Rose, Mrs. Newton Harrell and Mrs. Geo. Nance.

On Townsend Spending Spree

It's a question of how to spend $200 in a month, no more, no less, for the C. C. Fleming family of Chelan, Washington, shown here. Fleming, 63, an unemployed orchard worker, and the father of five children, is making the first actual test of the Townsend old age pension plan with $200 he was given by popular vote of Chelan's 1400 residents. All merchants were co-operating in the plan, assessing themselves a 2 per cent transaction tax, which it is hoped will raise another $200 for a test next month. The original $200 was donated.

SIDELIGHTS

By MARVIN JONES
Member of Congress
from Texas

President Roosevelt stood bareheaded in a steady, cold rain to take the oath of office for his second term. During the delivery of his address, the rain drummed against his face.

After his speech was finished, he rode the length of historic Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House in an open car, waving his hat to the thousands who lined the way.

At the President's own suggestion, the parade reviewing stand in front of the White House was built as a replica of the Hermitage, the home of that earlier day champion of Democracy, Andrew Jackson.

Careful architects had planned a heavy plate glass window to shield the President from the weather while he watched the parade pass, but he asked that the glass be removed.

In his inaugural address, the President outlined the philosophy that will guide him during the next four years. He summed up this philosophy in this statement:

"The test of our progress is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much; it is whether we provide enough for those who have too little."

Kidnapping and other startling crimes that shock the nation all too frequently are a challenge to our generation to stamp them out.

One example of the federal government's activity in the field of crime prevention is the police training school which has been established by the Department of Justice. Here representatives of various state and local police agencies receive instruction in the latest methods of crime detection and prevention, and then carry their knowledge home to their fellow officers.

Crime cannot be conquered in a day, but the steps that have been taken are an encouraging indication of the progressive approach which is clearing the way for future results.

I had the privilege of attending a White House conference last week in which emphasis was placed on the need of a long-range program to preserve and utilize water in order to prevent a recurrence of epriodic disasterous floods. The present flood, which has reached record proportions, has brought this need forcibly to mind.

Engineers now agree that the floods that occur in the main river streams could be largely prevented by utilizing the water in a soil conservation program and in a system of reservoirs, small lakes and ponds.

Such a program would take time to develop fully, but it would be well worthwhile. Water now wasted in floods would become a blessing instead of a curse.

Taking Another Kind of Walk

Shippers!

NEW SHORTER ROUTE between the MOUNTAIN STATES and the GULF COAST

The Santa Fe is happy to announce the completion and opening to service, on February 1st, 1937, of the longest piece of new railroad undertaken in the United States in the past year—the 112 miles of new line linking Las Animas, Colorado, with Boise City, Oklahoma

The new line carries rail facilities to and through a considerable area of potentially rich country, but it has an even broader purpose—to provide finer Santa Fe service for the shippers and consumers of a tremendous and already developed territory.

In a word, the new road, linking together existing Santa Fe lines, provides to the shippers and consumers of a vast and productive area of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, and of the northern mountain states clear to the Pacific Northwest, through facilities and shorter routings for the rapid interchange of their shipments. It reduces the previous shortest rail distance between Amarillo, Texas, and Denver, Colorado, by over 25 miles. It saves from 142 to 226 miles in the movement of freight over the Santa Fe to and from Colorado, from and to points in Texas, and on portions of the Santa Fe in Oklahoma and New Mexico. Today, Amarillo is placed but 435 miles from Denver, via the Santa Fe. Products of the Pacific Northwest, connecting with the Santa Fe at Colorado points, can now have direct routing to the markets of Texas and the Gulf ports, while producers in the Lone Star State will benefit from similar service in reaching Colorado and the great Northwest.

The new line has been carefully sited and solidly constructed, with every facility for the handling of business offered at new stations located in a territory that had been making progress even in advance of the advent of the rails. Here is good wheat country, and corn, grain sorghums, broom corn and other crops have done well with natural rainfall. In the Las Animas area, where irrigation farming is done with water from the Arkansas River, there is promise of greatly increased production of sugar beets, melons, vegetables, onions, and alfalfa. West of Springfield, Colorado, and Boise City, Oklahoma, and north of Amarillo, general farming and livestock raising are important activities. Among the towns on the new line north of Amarillo, in Texas, are Dumas and Stratford.

In the construction of the new Boise City-Las Animas line, the Santa Fe reaffirms its abiding faith in the future of that vast Southwest in which it pioneered and with which it has grown. Your local Santa Fe representative will be glad to point out how the new line can best be of service to you

THE EAGLE'S TALE

On To District Eagles!

Howdy, younguns.

You kids really brake my heart by letting those old Hornets beat you tother night, cause I sure was pullin fer you; but after all, you can't expect to beat 'em all the time; they'd finally get to where they wouldn't play with us.

It must have been a good girls' game down there, on account of Billy came home with a blue-greenish-purple eye. What does the other person look like, Billy? They tell me Margaret liked to have caught her a kitty at the ball game with those Bobcats the other night.

It sure looked fine when I walked in the gym Tuesday night and saw all those old kids backing those old Eagles; it made me think of the good old days when I was out there playing and a certain little gal always watching me. I'm here to tell she really could put the pep in me. I've often wondered if all five of the first-string boys had gals to come to the game and watch 'em, if they'd do any better. Course they don't need to do much better, but they will have to hop to bring the bacon home from Clovis.

I was just foolin' around Sunday evening and happened to see a little brown-headed gal with that little ole boy, Jimmy Pope. He used as his excuse having to get Spanish so he could stay up rather late; but I know that old stuff. It hasn't been many moons since I was a boy growing up, and had to study late at night with my gal or some one else's girl. Well, so long, kids, till Mary has a little lamb.

HELP KEEP BOOKS IN SHAPE

If books could talk, some would certainly have room to complain. The students of this school must think that our magazines and books are made for them to draw pictures and to write all over. You pick up a book and find a good story, and pretty soon you find that someone has cut a picture out of it and then your story is spoiled.

Can't students help to keep the books in the library? You surely are not babies, or you would not be in high school. How would you like for folks to come into your library and do the same to your books? Please, let's each and everyone help to keep our books. Let's keep our library as nice as we would our own at home.

"UNREWARDED"

"Reward! A reward should be given ——" and rightfully to those who deserve it. Who in the Junior Homemakers Club has not collected her reward?" A certain girl in the club is often seen working very hard, running errands or working at school until late in the afternoon, but receives no recognition of her work. This girl is interested in home economics, but receives no reward because her sister is the teacher of home economics and sponsor of the club.

This is only one example of many such cases, and these unrecognized people are often the foundation of the club.

And now, we wish to pay tribute to the unrecognized and unrewarded girls of the Junior Homemakers Club and of the other organizations of the Canyon High School.

GUESS WHO?

He st-st-st-stutters,
And glasses he wears;
He's a senior lad,
With brown curly hair.

Answer to last week's "Guess Who"—Sunshine Harden.

"Masked Murderess" Is Home Economics Play

Who is the "Masked Murderer"? Walter Eanes regained consciousness only long enough to utter, "She wore a mask." One of the most sensational murder mysteries of the year! Don't miss it! "The Mystery of the Masked Girl," a three-act murder mystery by Helen A. Monsell, has been chosen for the play to be presented by the Junior Homemakers Club on February 18 at 7:45 o'clock, in the high school auditorium. Admission will be five, ten, and fifteen cents.

Walter Eanes, a famous chemist, discovers a formula for making silk from paper. Walking through the park on his way to a conference with the president of the Bellemeade Works, he is mysteriously stabbed in the back. Is the Masked Murder Mrs. Moss, his landlady, played by Charlotte Beth Henderson, or her daughter, Moria, Beulah Brasuel? Perhaps it is Hulda, a typical dumb maid, except she is dumber, impersonated by Sue Terry. Hazel Sanders and Edrie McNeill are two college girls, Ann Bradley and Judith Atkins, who set out to solve the mystery. Two other college girls, Rose Lawn and Kathryn Tremayne, are Lillian Chambers and Lula Marie Ellison. Marille Oldham is a detective, Margaret Carney; and Margaret Stewart plays the part of Miss Pruden, another boarder.

Mr. H. G. Moore, sponsor of dramatics, selected the characters for the play, and Mildred Shuman, president of the Home Economics Club, will be student director of the play.

Will Walter Eanes' murder go unavenged? See for yourself, on February 18. Tickets may be obtained from Junior Homemakers.

Farley's Circus Given Tuesday

Cal Farley's Flying Dutchman Circus was presented Tuesday evening, January 26, at the high school under the auspices of the Band-Parents Association.

Those performing were Son Langsford and His Sons of the West, who played and sang several numbers; Joe and Marie, the Mexican Songsters; Estella Mae Murphy, a six-year old who sang and danced; Jean Farley, Cal Farley's young daughter, who sang and tapped. The Mavevricks and their sponsor gave several acrobatic arrangements, and the Mavericks' quartet gave several selections. Gilbert Howard and his sister sang cowboy songs. "Dutchman" Tell gave a short performance. Johnnie West, a dance instructor of Amarillo, gave two tap numbers.

There was t ten-minute intermission at the half of the program, at which refreshments were sold by the band members and band parents.

This circus was given in order to raise money for new uniforms for the band members. About eighty dollars was cleared on the program.

Condron Speaks To P. T. A. Thursday

"Our community is not limited to our own little section," pointed out Mr. S. H. Condron when he talked on "The Larger Community" last Thursday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, held in the high school auditorium.

Mr. Condron went on to say that when community groups were first laid out, their size was naturally limited by the distance which the members could go in a short time; now, modern means of transportation have bridged that gap of distance until every group is dependent upon every other group.

"These enlarged communities can accomplish many things impossible to the smaller groups," stated Mr. Condron, "however the small community should not strive to 'ape' the larger towns. Size is not a measure of quality; the small community, instead of striving for size alone, should try to be the best community of its size."

Preceding Mr. Condron's talk, the Mother Singers of the organization gave two selections, "Neapolitan Nights" and "Sing, Little Banjo, Sing." They were directed by Mrs. H. A. Brown, with Mrs. John B. Pope at the piano.

In her devotional, based on "Forcefulness of Character," Mrs. W. T. Davis pointed out that our physical growth is more or less a natural process; but our mental and spiritual growth depends upon the efforts we ourselves exert, and upon our co-operation with God's plan. "God's book is the only sound basis for this development," stated Mrs. Davis.

After the program, the group adjourned to the basement for a social hour. Cake and coffee were served, and the group ended the evening by an old-fashioned sing-song of favorite songs.

Actors Postpone Play Until Tues.

The Stagecrafters' meeting for last Tuesday was postponed until next Tuesday when the play, "The Peddler," will be presented by members of the club.

This is a one-act comedy about a complicated love affair. Mr. H. G. Moore, faculty sponsor of the club, selected the cast as follows: Ethel, the heroine, Lillian Chambers; Harold, the hero, Sherman Higdon; Jane, the maid, Marie O'Donald; Frederick, fellow-suitor with Harold, Jack Inman; Jake, the peddler, Sam Robinson.

This is only the beginning of such activities, and future plays will probably be more advanced. Improvements as to the objectives of the organization of the club will be made, and by the end of the year, an expert group of dramatists is hoped to be developed.

CANYON, HEREFORD BANDS TO GIVE PROGRAM

Numbering more than ninety musicians, the combined bands of Canyon and Hereford will present a recital Thursday evening, February 11, in the auditorium of the high school here.

"The public is cordially urged to attend this recital," states Mr. R. G. Stephenson, director of the local band. "There will be no admission charge, and we feel sure that it will be an enjoyable evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Andy Walsh substituted in the grades the past week.

Eagles Overwhelm Bobcats, and Lose to Tulia Hornets

The Eagles won one game and lost one in a hectic week-end. Friday night they came out on the long-end of a 27-28 count with Dimmitt. Saturday night the Tulia Hornets took the Eagles to town to the tune of 33-16. The Eaglettes dropped a classic to Dimmitt girls 31-33, while the Tulia Hornettes beat the local girls 21-11 on Saturday night.

The Eagles were badly off-form for this week-end and eked out their victory over Dimmitt simply by virtue of do or die in the last two minutes of the game. Johnson of Dimmitt led the scoring with 10 points. Drummond of Canyon came next with 9 points.

The Eaglettes played spirited, inspired basketball for three quarters but let up the last quarter and were caught and passed before the game ended. Kate Donnell scored 22 points to lead the floor.

Tulia Hornets took advantage of the Eagles' off night and gave them a sound beating. Cook of Tulia led the scoring with 9 points. The Eagles were badly off form and Tulia was playing its best game of the season. The result is seen in the score, 36-16.

Then, to climax things, the Tulia fairer sex shoved the Eaglettes off their feet for a 10-point victory.

Recitals Will Be Given Next Week

Two recitals will be presented next week by the music department of the public schools. On Monday evening, February 8, elementary music pupils will be assisted by pupils from the expression department. Musical numbers will be given by Billie Marie Money, Fannie Alice Pierce, Ann Crawford, Carlene Scott, Frances Alice Harp, Ellen Sanders, Ben Carolyn Dunaway, Jane Campbell, Mary Ann Bellah, Claudine Foster, Martha Lee Foster, Beulah Hammond, Carolyn Black, Martha Jean Dowd, Anna Lee Newlin, Anita Davis, Leroy Wooten, H. R. Fulton, Jack Bryan, and Thomas Harold Thompson. Expression pupils who will participate are Clarence Thompson, Felix Shuman, Arthur Duncan, Willis Criswell, and Martha Hammond.

Wednesday evening, February 10, high school music pupils will be presented in recital. Those on the program are Edith Neff, Myriel McClendon, Helen Hurst, Lucile Davis, Dorothy Heath, Mavis Harden, Martha Frances Campbell, Renna Beth Bellah, Doris Marie Ball, Billie Davis, Bernard Warren, and Martha Jo Newlin.

Mrs. Lee Foster is head of the music department, while Mr. Gordon Beck teaches expression. Both recitals will begin at 8 o'clock.

Civics Members Are Now Congressmen

The civics classes have started a congress to pass bills of different types that are brought into legislation by the congress of the United States. This is what it would be like if school bills were brought and here are some of the bills that would probably be brought up.

"Mr. Chairman."

"Madam Speaker."

Then Mary Collins proceeds with her bill she has ready for legislation. "The light on the bus should be turned off on return from the basketball trips so all members of the squads might sleep, therefore receiveing rest for the games in the future."

The bill was in doubt due to the President's veto. The President doesn't play basketball. (It's funny I never noticed that Mary got sleepy on the trips.)

"Mr. Chairman."

"Mister Speaker."

Then up jumps Sherman with a bill waving in his head scratcher. The President sticks his head in the door and yells "I veto," and poor Hig sits down as happy as if he had good sense.

Then Lavert jumps up with a bill that says "To have a perfect country we must have something to go with our sports and this should be music." Although this is not stated I think that his idea is that he and Glenn shall get a guitar and play cowboy songs for the students. This bill only received two votes.

Then with a bunch of tapping and a twitch of the nose, J. C. rises and introduces a bill, "Dances shall be held in the gym every Saturday night." The bill passed with only one amendment, which was Saturday and Wednesday night.

Where Did You Put My Wrist Watch?

Does anybody know where my wrist watch is?" "Oh, where is my wrist watch?" "I'm going to break somebody's neck, if something doesn't happen!"

He started hunting. He looked under, on, and around everything he could get his hands on. He had everyone digging for that precious watch. Soon the dressing room was practically torn up. Benches and tables were turned over, boards torn loose, and clothes scattered all over the room. Boys were dirty, scratched, and dishevelled.

Melvin looked on his wrist, and there was his lost watch. The poor boy is getting as bad as a school teacher.

Hickman Speaks at Homemakers Club

"A long time ago people used to think of health as freedom from disease, but we have got away from that historic definition," began Miss Hellen Hickman at the Junior Homemakers Club last Wednesday evening. Her subject was "Personal Hygiene for Girls."

"Today we think there is more to health than a physical well-being," she continued. "Physical health is the basis with social and mental health depending on it."

She said in part, "Every girl has a right to a normal body. There is nothing more interesting than a beautiful girl. Not necessarily beautiful of feature, but a wholesome girl who is interested and therefore interesting. A girl also has a birthright to a normal mind. To be mentally healthy one must develop certain wholesome mental traits."

The speaker discussed four of these traits: self-confidence, within certain limitations; faith in the goodness of life; broadmindedness; and unselfishness.

Discussing social well-being, she said, "Social health is divided into two parts, moral and spiritual. The moral is a certain code of ethics which is accepted in the best of society; and the spiritual, that which people used to think was the only direct connection between God and man. If you study the great works of art, literature, and lives of men who accomplished something, you are lifting yourself spiritually."

In concluding, Miss Hickman said, "If we as American women want to be the finest women the world has known, we want to be well physically, mentally, and socially."

Following Miss Hickman's discussion, refreshments of lemonade, cookies, and "smacks" were served by Helen Johnson, Dannie Stewart, Fern Walters, Annie Ruth Schmitz, Mary Jo Avent, Nora Lee Brazil, Mona McNeill, Sunshine Hardin, Polly Cluck, Ruth Gill, and Beatrice Burrus.

H. S. Will Debate In Amarillo

Canyon High School debaters will debate Saturday in Amarillo. Miss Oretha Jane Cornelius, the Amarillo debate coach, has planned a series of four debates each for teams which she has invited from several towns. This will not be a regular tournament, but it will be in preparation for the annual Speech Arts Tournament which will be held in Amarillo on Saturday, March 13.

Canyon will probably debate Hereford, February 10, 11, or 12. John B. Pope, Melvin Callihan, John Albers, and Sherman Higdon will be the boys debate team for the first few debates and the girls' team will be selected from Mildred Shuman, Marielle Oldham, Billy Greenfield, Lillian Chambers, Shirley Ann Oliver and Sarah Thompson.

Students Bring Candy And Salt To School

What is this world coming to anyhow! Of course, it's all right (and perfectly sane) to bring your lunch to school; but when it comes to bringing candy, peppers, salt, and beek steak, it gets to be bad; then people begin to wonder.

Well, this happened the other day in the Spanish class. The pupils came in bringing mysterious boxes (one bod had his in his pocket; a pecan, a peanut, and a pepper) and then the rush began! Every one went around peeking into other peoples' boxes and sacks, and didn't calm down until the teacher, Miss Jewell Foster, came in.

You can't imagine all those good things in a school room; there was everything from peanuts to a nut pudding. The idea was to bring three foods and tell their names in Spanish. One girl even passed around her box of homemade candy. Talk about good! Some of the students got to sneezing when the pepper came to light.

Finally the class got over the foods and began to study. We want to thank Winnie Dee Hicks for giving us this Spanish papers. The papers are in Spanish and each has a duplicate in English. We also want to thank Ruby Guthrie for the Spanish poster she gave us. It is vividly painted and shows a dancing Spanish senorita, with these words, "Join the Spanish Club," a the side of the girl. Both of these girls are former Spanish Club members.

Miss Annie Ruth Eastus spent the week end in Dalhart.

Johnny and Sue In Love Again

It was a case of "Love in Bloom" between Johnny and "Sweet Sue." Not even "Rain" could keep them from the park and their usual "Two Cigarettes in the Dark," nor keep John from saying "You are My Lucky Star," and they sat "In the Chapel in the Moonlight."

Never did "Sweet Sue" wait in the park, saying "'Me and the Moon' are here, 'but where are you?'" On a "Gloomy Sunday" the "Beautiful Lady" and John would sit and look at "Knick-knacks on the Mantle," asking each other "When Did You Leave Heaven?"

Although John did not have "Plenty of Money," he and his "Old-Fashioned Girl" had good times at "Home, Sweet Home," sometimes interrupted by some drunkards outside singing "Sweet Adeline."

John would have liked to stay until "Three O'clock in the Morning," but Father always became "Angry," so that John had to plead "Forgive Me," and then sadly say "Good Night, Sweetheart," and leave his "Beloved" until the next morning "At Dawning."

BOOK REVIEW

O"Most people sleep themselves stupid. Nine out of ten men would have better health and more fun out of life if they spent less time in bed," according to the book How to Live, by Arnold Bennett.

The book tells how to live on twenty-four hours a day; and this does not mean exists, nor muddle through, but really live and enjoy life to its greatest extent.

The book discusses the human machine, mental efficiency, self, and self-management. Along with this is much physcology. It is well written and easily understood, and thus interesting to the average reader.

Therefore if you do not know how to spend the twenty-four hours a day that you have, I advise you to read Arnold Bennett's How to Live.

"UNCLE BILL" MOVES TO DALLAS

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mowery, known to pep squad girls as "Aunt Willie and Uncle Bill," moved last Wednesday to Dallas, where Mr. Mowery has accepted a position with the Universal Credit Company.

To show their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Mowery, the pep squad girls presented them with a table lamp. Mr. Mowery has taken pep squad girls on all the football trips that they did not go in busses, and has helped them have a good time; thus, he acquired the name, "Uncle Bill."

Canyon Will Play Amarillo, Friona and Clovis

The Eagles have three basketball games on their hands this week, while the Eaglettes have only one.

The loopsters play Amarillo here, and Friona and Clovis there. This story goes to press before the Amarillo game, so the write-up will be late on it. Friona and Clovis are certain to give the Eagles some real competition as both games with them here were close, the scores being 37-30 and 20-17, Friona and Clovis respectively, in the Eagles' favor. The local stars also beat Friona one point in the Friona tournament.

The Chiefs are tabbed as one of the chief contenders for the district title, and after the smashing defeat of the Eagles by Tulia, it looks as though they will really take some battling. Clovis outclasses the Eagles by quite a margin, but the Eagles can still hold their own against them if they will play their best brand of basketball.

The Eaglette cagers will engage the Friona girls Friday night. The Eaglettes beat them one point in the Friona tournament, but the opposition drubbed the fair local basketeers in a home game.

The district tournament is not far off so the end of the season is nearing, and the teams are going to have to drive hard to succeed in their goal set for the year. District!

Dozier Speaks To Girls Monday

Miss Allie Dozier, home demonstration agent of Randall county, was the guest speaker for the girls of the high school in assembly last Monday morning. Her subject was "Choosing a Vocation After High School." She stressed the fields that can be developed and personal attitudes in choosing a vocation.

"According to my idea," stated Miss Dozier, "home economics is the best basis for a lasting vocation. From this you can be a homemaking teacher, homemakers, home demonstration agents, or enter some form of commercial home economics."

The boys' assembly was held in the study hall with Superintendent I. B. Carruth in charge. His talk was on practically the same subject as Miss Dozier's.

English Class Sees Museum Thursday

In order actually to see many of the things about which they have been studying the past three weeks, the seventh grade English class taught by Miss Pauline Crittenden visited the museum at the College last Thursday afternoon.

The class has been studying cowboy life and western csutoms. At the museum, they saw the various kinds of ropes; branding irons, most of them from the JA Ranch; a miniature cow camp; a model of the home of Charles Goodnight; saddles; guns; and many other articles pertaining to ranch life. The group, numbering thirty-one, went to the museum in the school bus.

On last Monday afternoon, the class had as their guest speaker Mr. F. A. Scott, Sr., who was once a cowhand on Charles Goodnight's ranches. Mr. Scott answered questions asked by the pupils, telling them many facts about the life, dress, and habits of the cowboy and of experiences on the ranch and on the trail.

Disastrous Ohio Flood Spurs New Water Control Efforts

FACED, in the Ohio river flood, with one of the greatest disasters of peace-time history, the nation has turned with a new interest to the vital problem of protecting itself against future calamities of this kind.

Hardly had the madcap waters of the 1000-mile Ohio begun to recede, leaving a trail of vast desolation and destruction, when the president signaled for redoubled flood prevention efforts. And Congress seemed exceedingly eager to go about this business of flood control on a mammoth scale.

Already, of course, the federal government through PWA is carrying out the greatest water impoundment program in the world's history. The United States now has completed or has under way PWA projects which will impound about 22 trillion (22,000,000,000,000) gallons of water in places where they will best serve the country through use for irrigation, power, navigation, domestic and industrial purposes, and flood control.

* * *

BUT, it appears, the fight has just begun. Millions have been spent, for instance, on the lower Mississippi. Now it is the Ohio that commands major attention.

Engineers agree that since the Ohio is the "principal flood-producing tributary" to the Mississippi, the key to flood control over a vast area lies definitely in this river.

Such a program would embody construction of flood-control dams in many streams tributary to the Ohio. Engineers point out that such dams as the Fort Peck in Montana, the Tygart dam near Grafton, W. Va., and the 14 reservoirs of the Muskingum district in Ohio, are certain to aid in controlling floods and insuring navigation all the year around for potential river ports which hitherto have been landlocked.

For that matter, the program has been definitely tested. Take the Miami Conservancy district about Dayton, O. In 1913 this entire district, where the Miami flows into the Ohio, was the scene of one of the country's most disastrous floods.

But after that catastrophe, Dayton took action and built "dry dams" which automatically back up water when floods threaten. And this year there was no flood at Dayton!

* * *

DESTRUCTIVE as it was of life and property, say government engineers, the Ohio flood points up the whole problem of water conservation. It evidences the need for a long-range, integrated program combining power development, flood control, and soil erosion prevention.

One approach to such a program would co-ordinate all government agencies dealing with power and flood control. From such an agency might even come at least a partial solution of the unemployment problem, as thousands would be put to work building dams, locks, levees.

Meanwhile, the Weather Bureau has announced plans for a nation-wide flood forecasting service. But it hopes it may never forecast another Ohio rampage like this last.

This lineman is patching through an emergency telephone line to an isolated town.

TELEPHONE MEN STILL WORKING TO REPAIR ICE-WRECKED LINES

Telephone men, still at work repairing damage from the $1,500,000 sleet which swept from the Iowa border to the Gulf in January, can remember no worse ice storm.

Yet they found, as they set about replacing 26,000 poles and 18,000 miles of wire leveled by the blast, that this year's disaster actually did less damage than the smaller 1924 ice storm. The reasons:

First—Most telephone poles today are creosoted yellow pine. They stand under ice that would snap poles used years ago.

Second—Constructed at heavy cost several years ago, an underground long distance cable through the heart of the storm belt "carried on." It formed a backbone of communication from which emergency lines could quickly be "patched through" to almost 100 isolated towns.

These things... improvements of the last 10 years . . . are a part of the Bell System's constant effort to make its lines proof against storm and disaster.

To those customers who were without service because of the storm, perhaps for several days, the company expresses its appreciation for their patience during a trying period.

Senator Connally Has Bill to Take Profits Out of War

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb. 1.—"Take the Profit out of War" is the aim of legislation introduced by Senator Tom Connally today in Congress. Through taxation, the Connally measure drafts industry and wealth and effectively prevents war-time profiteering. Should the United States become engaged in War, increased tax rates and reduced exemptions for individuals would automatically become effective. Personal exemptions would be lowered to $800 and $1,600 for single and married persons, respectively, and the rate of tax would be 10 percent, with a surtax beginning with 6 percent on the first thousand dollars in excess of the exemption and reaching a maximum of 80 percent. Corporation taxation would multiply in like manner.

Disturbing economic and social conditions, particularly in the European areas, lend impetus and need for the enactment of war revenue legislation at this session of Congress; such action will be sought by Senator Connally, who made the following statement:

"The War Profits bill provides for the drafting of industrial plants and factories and munitions and supplies. It musters money as well as men. It calls to the colors a vast industrial army as well as manhood of America. It announces the policy that dollars shall not be more sacred than human life. It enunciates the doctrine that in time of war and crisis every resource and every instrumentality to secure victory and the triumph of American arms shall be at the command of the government of the United States."

The measure effectively carries out the policy of American Legion to draft industry and wealth as well as individuals in the prime of their life. Senator Connally believes that with profits from war removed, one of the major causes of war will be removed.

Working under its Chairman, Senator Connally, the Senate Finance sub-committee has spent months in conjunction with tax experts from Joint Committee on Internal Revenue on Taxation and from the Treasury working out the tax plan. The bill was unanimously adopted by the sub-committee and reported favorably by the Finance Committee to the Senate late last session; action was not taken due to adjournment. The measure carries out the anti-war-profits plank in the Democratic Platform adopted in Philadelphia last June, a plank which was placed in the platform upon the insistence of Senator Connally.
